Wage & Employment Verifications

Employees may be applying for a mortgage, purchasing a car, or applying for a credit card that require wage and employment verifications. We have a solution that can help with those needs.

WAGEVerify™, a HIREtech solution, is a secure income and employment verification platform designed to instantly provide access to key employment and income data for employees and verifiers seamlessly, and without impact to your personnel and resources. It also gives your employees the power to approve verification inquiries and monitor the status of their verification requests from any device in real time.
